

DOLLARS FOR SCHOLARS SPOTLIGHT

It's a tradition.....

Floodwood graduates succeed

Darci Rahja Dahl, daughter of Bob and Pam Rahja, graduated with the class of 1998. She earned her Physical Therapist Assistant A.A.S. at Lake Superior College in 2002.

With diploma in hand, when Darci graduated from Floodwood High School she knew she wanted a career that would give her employment in this area. She is now realizing her dream. Darci works for Rehabcare at Lakeshore in Duluth, MN. In her job she provides treatment and rehab services to patients who have been recently hospitalized. Using her expertise, she's very proud of the work she does as she sees patients, with her help and guidance, get stronger, improving their ability to become independent and once again return home.

Darci makes her home in Wright, MN with her husband Robert and two children, Brady (age 4) and Emelia (22 months).

Her message to the community of Floodwood: "Thank you for all of the contributions from this community be it large or small... This gift of money sure helps with the cost of books, tuition, and gas to get to/from school.. I sure come from a very generous town that looks after its own and encourages all to succeed!! Thank You!!"

The people of Floodwood can be proud of their support to young men and women such as Darci.
