

Reed Cutting Sr. was a caring husband, a proud father and grandfather and an amazing teacher who taught science in the Marblehead Public School System for thirty-three years. Beyond his teaching career, Reed had a passion for aircraft, music, sports and politics. He was outgoing, irrepressibly social and took a genuine interest in others. People simply loved him.