The Dollars for Scholars program allows local donors the opportunity to donate and receive a tax deduction. Unlike high schools, Dollars for Scholars chapters are 501(c)(3) tax-exempt organizations, and any donations to Dollars for Scholars receive a deduction. In addition, over 500 Collegiate Partners® support the ongoing work of Scholarship America® and its community-based, volunteer-driven Dollars for Scholars program. Dollars for Scholars chapter scholarships brought to these campuses are used first to fill any unmet student need. If there is no unmet need, the Collegiate Partners agree to use up to $2,500 of a scholarship to reduce the self-help portion (loan, work-study, etc.) of the package. Some Collegiate Partners will also match Dollars for Scholars scholarships up to a specific dollar amount.
